Submit Your Soil and Manure Samples for 2023

As a reminder to our farmers, fall is a great time to take soil samples for your 2023 nutrient management plan after crops are harvested.

We have a box in our office foyer to place soil and manure samples for our staff to process. When leaving samples in the box, please label the samples with your name, address, phone number, field number, and crop to be planted. We will invoice the producer for the cost of the sample and shipping. If you have questions, don't hesitate to contact Jill Hauser, Nutrient Management Coordinator, at jhauser1@umd.edu or 301-334-6960.

Cattle Health Management – Calving

The University of Maryland Department of Animal and Avian Sciences and Maryland Extension will hold a comprehensive calving workshop for all interested cattle producers. The goal of this workshop will be to cover all areas of calving, including prepping for the farm for the upcoming calving season, common calving management techniques, as well as strategies for handling issues that may come up.

Thursday, December 1, 2022, 5:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m. at Garrett College Outreach Center, 12601 National Pike, Grantsville, MD 21536.

Registration is required (either online or in-person at the door): $35 per Farm for First Time Attendees - Fee includes all educational materials and starter calving kit. Previous Participants can attend for free as a refresher (No Starter Kit)

Agenda:

- Welcome and Introductions
- Tips for Getting Your Operation Ready for Calving
- Common Management Techniques for a Successful Calving Season
- When Things Go Wrong
- Hands-on Practice with Calving Model and Calving Tools
- Questions and Wrap-up

For any questions or concerns or to register offline, please contact Racheal Slattery at rslatt@umd.edu or 301-405-1392

If you need a reasonable accommodation to participate in the event or activity, please contact us at least two weeks before the event. If you have questions or need assistance, please contact the University of Maryland Extension, Garrett office at 301-334-6960 or email wlantz@umd.edu.
