What is a Master Gardener?

A Master Gardener is someone:

- who has an interest in gardening
- who wants to help others garden successfully
- who has been trained by University of Maryland Extension faculty.
- who continues to acquire gardening knowledge by participating in advanced training classes.

How are Master Gardeners trained?

- Training classes are conducted by University of Maryland Extension specialists, educators, and other horticultural professionals.
- Topics covered: Botany, Composting, Plant Diseases, Entomology, Weeds, Vegetable Gardening, Soils & Fertilizers, Herbaceous and Woody Perennials, and other subjects of horticultural interest.

Who, When and Where?

Calvert County’s Master Gardener Volunteer Training Program is sponsored by the University of Maryland Extension.

Interview: A short interview will be scheduled for each prospective Master Gardener either by telephone or at the Extension Office in Prince Frederick.

Classes
Tuesday and Thursday evenings
February 24 – April 2, 2015
6:15 p.m. – 8:45 p.m.

Field Trip
One Saturday morning field trip is planned for April 4, 2014 to the National Arboretum.

Location
Classes will be held at:
Community Resources Building
(Across from Prince Frederick Post Office)
30 Duke Street, Room 105
Prince Frederick, MD 20678

Fee
The cost is $175.00. This pays for a Maryland Master Gardener Handbook ($69 value) and other materials and costs needed to teach and administer the program at the county and state level.

In addition to the class, an application must be completed before acceptance as a Maryland Master Gardener Intern. MG Interns must provide 40 hours of volunteer service to the program within 12 months to become certified as a MG Volunteer.
