MASTER GARDENER SEED EXCHANGE

The Anne Arundel County Master Gardeners, University of Maryland Extension will hold their Second Annual Seed Exchange on Saturday, October 23 at the Elk Lodge on Route 450, Crofton starting at 9:30 AM. The University of Maryland Extension programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, gender, disability, religion, age, sexual orientation, marital or parental status, or national origin. Tickets are $5.00 if you bring a packet of seeds and $10.00 without. The seeds may be from your own garden, as long as they are labeled with the name of the seed, the date, and contained in a plastic baggie or coin envelope. Barbara Melera of Landreth Seed Company will speak on “A History of the Great Seed Houses in the USA”. Door prizes of wine, spa gifts and coupons, movie tickets, and gift certificates donated by local businesses will be awarded.
