NEW FOOD PRESERVATION RULES

Starting at the 2014 CC 4-H/FFA Fair, we will be following the state Food Preservation Rules. No jars will be opened; the source of your recipe must be on the jar (Example – So Easy to Preserve, Blue Ball Book). Recipes should be a USDA tested recipe. A copy of “So Easy to Preserve” can be found at the Extension Office. If you have questions, contact the department superintendent or call Becky at the Extension Office.

Indoor Department

This month I will continue my series of articles highlighting new classes or class changes for Indoor Departments at the 2014 Carroll County Fair. Now is the time to work on craft projects or other department's projects that can be made and set aside for the fair. Some of you attended Mid-Winter Blahs. The Blah's give 4-H'ers the opportunity to make items which can be entered in the fair. Put those items away in a safe place and don't forget to enter them in the Carroll County Fair. Public Schools will be closed for spring break. Why not use some of that time to work on projects to enter in the fair? By not waiting until school is out to start your projects you have more time, won't be rushed and will be able to complete more projects to give us more entries for our public to view.

The Clover Department will have 6 classes just like last year. Each clover can enter 1 item in each class. A department that has declined in entries is the Mechanical Arts. We usually think of restored farm machinery or antiques for this department. There are also classes for restored residential equipment, modified equipment or fabricated. Do you have project work from Career Tech that could be entered in this department? Judges in this department are very thorough so you need to allow a block of time for judging. If you have any questions about entries for this department, now is the time to contact the Superintendent, Gary Seibel, at 410-635-6930 or email gseibel@umd.edu.

Once again, I would encourage 4-H'ers to enter their school writing projects in the Writing Department. 4-H'ers can see how their writing compares to others, receive premium money and give the public the opportunity to read their entries.

Next month I will be writing about the four other indoor departments. If you have any questions please contact me at 410-857-0416 --Sandra Stonesifer
