Summer Cut Flower Tour

September 9, 2015

Surreybrooke Farm
Middletown, Maryland

Sponsored by:
University of Maryland Extension

Co-sponsor:
Association of Specialty Cut Flower Growers

Check-in/Registration starts at 8:30 a.m. and the program begins at 9:00 a.m.

University of Maryland Extension programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, gender, disability, religion, age, sexual orientation, marital or parental status, or national origin.
While striving to be more than a garden center, Surreybrooke’s mission is to offer visitors an exciting time, experiencing the extensive gardens and historical outbuildings. The winding paths lead to outrageously colorful borders overflowing with perennials, flowering native shrubs and vines that climb the artful pergolas. Trees of merit are dotted throughout the landscape and clustered around the earthen ponds.

Surreybrooke grows and sells cut flowers at the garden center and also offers workshops on flower arranging.
